No Chances Taken. Not only have the ordinary police been put on their guard, but the best men detailed to the work and the secret police responsible to the crown alone have been urged to do their utmost.

England's position as a political refuge denying mined to take no chances, as he feels personally responsible for the rulers who come to honor his father.

The Dowager Empress of Russia, sister of Alexandra, arrived in London today, accompanied by Grand Duke Alexandrovitch. They were met by King George and Queen Mary. The arrival of the Russian royalties and their progress through London was a note of sorebre splendor that added to the general air of mourning in the city.

The final sealing of Edward's coffin took place today in the throne room at Buckingham after a few of his personal friends and several of the ministers had viewed the late King for the least firm.

The new King will overtax his istrength at the outset of his relation. Since the death of his father, King George has had but little rest. He is working under tremendous pressure and in addition to his own arfairs of state, he is trying to untangle a mass of uncompleted business left by the late King, and is personal friends and several of the ministers had viewed the late Ving for the least firm. riends and several of the ministers had riewed the late King for the last time.

that of the King in Edward's last days, showed signs of emotion as he viewed the body. It was remarked that the King looked as he did in life.

Preparations for transferring the body to Westminster Hall for the public lying-in-state are rapidly being completed by the Duke of Norfolk, as earl marshal. The funeral plans lie in his hands, and those of the garter king-at-arms, though personally directed by King George.

Although wild rumors have been current in America in regard to the political situation, it is stated definitely and authoritatively that there is an absolute party truce. Financial interests and the determination of the real leaders leave in the original party truce. Financial interests and the determination of the real leaders leave in the part of the rank and file.

POSITIVELY DEMANDS CLEAN SWEEP

This is Not One of Those "Trumped Up" Plano Sales to Get Rid of an Old Stock Under the Guise of a "Clearance Sale" or an "Over Bought" Stock Which are all so Common Now-a-Days.

THIS SALE A NECESSITY - NOT A MAKE-SHIFT Buyers Throng the Ware Rooms of the Culley Company, Where Every Plano is Being Sold Regardless of Cost or Former Price—the Fine Instruments are Selling Fast—Will Soon be Gone.

most any hour of the day, see the number of people buying, and note how enthusiastic they are, you, too, would say this must truly be a "bargain harvest."

The values are without question remark-sble-they are certainly without precedent in 00 per cent trust worthy, and the Remodeling Sale Offerings 100 per cent reliable.

Make Your Dollars Count.

Never become timid when it comes to buying a worthy article. Get the most for your money always. People with great ideas and small purses simply can't afford to overlook the values in fine planos this sale presents.
They're bargains—great, big, unbeatable bargains. You can save nearly half now while any of these instruments remain, so we can't urge too strongly the importance of an early investigation of the planos, the prices, and the terms.

Every one should understand the exact reason for these tremendous price reductions, they should realize the circumstances that compel the Culley Co. to offer magnificent instruments at nearly half their original cost; plano buyers who have waited until now before purchasing are indeed fortunate. This is not a "trumped up" plano, sale on the spur of the moment for a little notoriety—but a condition of mechanics crowding us for opportunity to start in remodeling our store. Come, have a plano sent home.
